MANY SOLDIERS KILLED AND HURT AT TEXAS CITY

Many Other Small Towns Along Gulf Also Suffered Heavy Damage and Property Loss in Hurricane

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 18.—Scores of persons perished in the west Indian hurricane that swept Texas coast points, according to roundabout reports received here today from the stricken district. Eighteen soldiers, it is said, were killed at Texas City, the regular army camp near Galveston, and thirty or forty civilians also are reported dead. Sixty soldiers were reported killed at Texas City. Three are reported lost at Seabrook, near Houston.

According to the Houston Chronicle, a copy of which has reached Temple, Tex., J. R. Montgomery, a correspondent of the Chronicle, who viewed Galveston from the shore, said the wrecked causeway, the property damage at Galveston will exceed that of the 1900 storm.

HOUSTON ALSO SUFFERED. Storm damage at Houston, according to the Chronicle, which was issued Tuesday afternoon, is estimated at $1,000,000, but no mention is made of loss of life.

Eight of the soldiers killed at Texas City were caught under the ruins of the Thompson building, a three-story brick structure. The others were drowned. Most of the two score odd civilians who are said to have perished were women and children. Military relief has been established at Texas City.

State officials at Austin were busy today trying to communicate with Galveston. In the meantime, the blunkets were being ready for shipment to Houston or Galveston for the use of storm refugees as the hurricane swept the coast.

According to the Houston Post story of conditions at Texas City based on an interview with R. V. Rhodes, who brought an appeal to the Texas City to Houston, the bodies of eight women were found washed ashore at Texas City Tuesday. These bodies are supposed to have come from Galveston. Washed up on the beach were the bodies of two Point Isabel, which yesterday was reported to have been wrecked, is safe, according to a news dispatch from San Antonio. The storm is said to have blown the bodies of the Corpus Christi to Brownsville and no lives were reported lost.

OTTON, LAKE GED. Damage, which is estimated will run into millions of dollars, has been done to the cotton fields in Texas by the storm of Monday and Tuesday. Reports received at Austin from towns in central Texas state that the wind was open in the hills it has been blown out and beaten into the ground by the heavy rain.

It is estimated that 50 per cent of the cotton in this section was opened out from one-fourth to one-half of the staple was lost.

Only three local people are reported to have been killed in Texas yesterday and every one on the streets after 3:30 at night was forced to give a good account of themselves.

County Board Heart and Soul For Old Spirit

Commissioners Turman, Winn, Mills, Hightower and Gilbert Indorse Ragsdale Idea of Harmony in Atlanta

Fulton county's commissioners—Chairman S. B. Turman, W. Tom Winn, Oscar Mills, T. J. Hightower, Jr., and Dr. W. L. Gilbert—are heart and soul back of the movement to revive the old-time Atlanta spirit—that famous spirit which has made Atlanta the foremost of southern cities.

Mayor Pro Tem Ragsdale's appeal to all Atlantians to get together, forget private bickerings and work for the good of all receives the hearty endorsement of the commissioners, who pledge themselves as private citizens and the governing board of the county to do what they can towards fostering this revival of "Atlanta's greatest asset."

Their statements follow:

S. B. TURMAN: As chairman of the board of county commissioners, I heartily approve this movement.

W. TOM WINN: This revival is very timely, and it is what Atlanta needs. I am talking to an Atlanta man who was just back from California two or three days ago. He spoke of the fact that everywhere on the Pacific coast was a booster, and said that it was very noticeable that the people of Atlanta did not now exemplify the spirit of "boosterism" even as it existed here six months ago. I said to him that it was a good thing to have a booster revival in Atlanta, and he said that he would do his best to help it.

LYNCHING OF FRANK WILSON PROBED IN BOTTOM, SAYS HARRIS

Will Undertake to Bring Men Who Took a Hand in Lynching to Justice, Says Governor

BODY IS ON ITS WAY TO BROOKLYN FOR BURIAL

State Prison Farm Officials Held Blameless for Removal of Frank, Says Commissioner E. L. Rainey

Governor Nat E. Harris stated Wednesday that he will make every effort within his power to ascertain the identity of the men composing the mob that took Leo M. Frank from the state prison farm and lynched him in Cobb county, near Marietta, and to bring them to justice for their act.

"I am inexpressibly shocked," said the governor. "This affair places a blot upon the fair name of our state that can never be wiped out. The lynching will be proved to the bottom and every effort within my power will be made to bring the members of the mob to justice. At the proper time I will offer suitable rewards for the arrest and conviction of the men, and I will urge the judges, the jury and the sheriff to make diligent effort to apprehend them."

The governor cut short his visit to the reunion of the Confederate veterans at Marietta and returned to Atlanta Tuesday night. In order to begin his investigation of the lynching without delay.

His visit first held an conference with the members of the prison commission to determine whether the officials and guards at the state prison farm should be held responsible for allowing the mob to take Frank out of their hands. He will also undertake, if possible, to obtain from the officials and guards some description of the men composing the mob. Then he will direct his attention to the apprehension of the guilty parties.

Mr. Rainey stated to The Journal Wednesday morning that the officials at the state prison farm should be held responsible for allowing the mob to take Frank out of their hands. He will also undertake, if possible, to obtain from the officials and guards some description of the men composing the mob. Then he will direct his attention to the apprehension of the guilty parties.

Governor Says He Will Not Announce Decision Until Some Time Next Week

THREE PEOPLE POISONED BY DRINKING BUTTERMILK

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Truitt and Niece, Miss Price, Victims

After drinking buttermilk purchased it is said, from the Forrest Park dairy, owners 819-1-2 Peachtree street, at lunch Monday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Truitt, 23 Columbia avenue, and Miss Mona Price, their niece, were taken violently ill from the effects of the poison.

Mrs. Truitt suffered so severely from the poison that her life was thought to be in danger Monday night. Physicians stayed with her for hours before they were assured that she would recover. A deathly sickness and stiffness of the muscles and limbs were the symptoms shown. Mr. Truitt was also very sick.

Miss Price went out to the East Lake club with Mr. Ed Hook after lunch while in a boat on the lake at 4 o'clock in the afternoon she was taken ill. She was carried to the club house where Mrs. Hook and other friends rendered first aid. Later she was taken to the home of her sister, Mrs. Henry Starfield at East Lake. Wednesday she was still there.

SAVE THE LIFE OF AN ATLANTA WOMAN

Successful Blood Transfusion Operation Is Performed Upon Miss Ida Bruce at the Grady Hospital

ALLES TO CLASS COTTON AS CONTRABAND TONIGHT

France and Great Britain to Issue Proclamation Tonight or Tomorrow

LIFE was pumped into the veins of a woman lying near death at the Grady hospital Wednesday morning from the artery of a friend who sacrificed his own blood that she might be saved.

It was the operation known to the layman as blood transfusion, and tried at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Grady for the first time in many months. At noon it was pronounced a success. The woman will live.

She is Miss Ida Bruce, twenty-seven years old, of 233 Courtland street. Last November she fell. She was injured so badly that from that time she suffered from internal hemorrhages. Weakened by loss of blood, she was taken to the hospital three weeks ago. Every means failed to change her anemic condition and physicians desisted on the last resort, blood transfusion.

FRIEND IS HERE. A cousin, E. L. Stewart, offered his blood, but when his artery was tapped Tuesday night coagulation set in and it could not be used. Then J. M. Stallings, a friend, volunteered. It was his blood which will be responsible for a life saved if Miss Bruce continues to grow better.

Great interest was manifested in the operation. Internes were present and nurses who were off duty early in the morning remained to watch.

Before the operation began the haemoglobin of Miss Bruce was 26. Haemoglobin is the medical term for that vitality which is given man by his red corpuscles. A normal person is between 50 and 60.

After Mr. Stallings' forearm was washed with a local anesthetic, his radial artery was cut and connected with the saphenous vein in Miss Bruce's left leg. Also anesthetized, he absorbed the blood from the artery. The exact amount of blood transfused could not be learned, but the entire operation took an hour and fifteen minutes.

OPERATION DANGEROUS. Miss Bruce's haemoglobin was then tested and found to be 70. In the event of a blood transfusion, the blood of the donor is taken from the donor, as physicians believe it will, her vitality will continue at 70 or possibly reach 80.

Miss Bruce, now, however, in a week or two, will be able to get up and walk. The blood transfusion is a well known procedure, but the operation was not performed before on Miss Bruce. Now, however, in a week or two, will be able to get up and walk.

POSTCARDS BARRED. Postcards bearing pictures of the Frank lynching cannot be sent from the mail. The local postoffice is destroying all such cards mailed here.

Only three licenses have been granted, and City Clerk Walter Taylor has announced that no more will be issued.

KOVNO FORTS BEFORE CHARGE OF GERMAN TROOPS

Kaiser's Men Capture Russian Stronghold Despite Most Tenacious Resistance by the Russian Defenders

EASTERN COUNTRIES OF ENGLAND SUFFER RAID

Thirty-Six Persons Injured and Ten Slain When Zeppelins Pour Fire on Outskirts of London

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, Aug. 18.—The outskirts of London were raided last night by Zeppelins. The damage to property was not important. Ten persons were killed. One Zeppelin is believed to have been hit. Thirty-six persons were injured. The air raid was carried over several of the eastern counties of England. The official press-bureau statement said:

"Zeppelins visited the eastern counties last night and dropped bombs. Anti-aircraft guns were in action and it is believed that one Zeppelin was hit. The following casualties have been recorded: Killed—Men, 7; women, 2; children, 1. Injured—Men, 17; women, 15; children, 2. All the above were civilians."

The fall of the Russian fortress of Kovno, announced officially in Berlin today, marks a development of unmistakable importance in the struggle between the Russians and their opponents. It is believed that the Russian army, some of the outlying forts had been taken into that the situation of the Russian defensive position was not so good as London was prepared for today's announcement.

The Russian army apparently have not been able to check the Austro-German advance, which is now pushing forward against the ring of strong fortresses which form the outer defense to the Petrograd province.

The armies of the central powers are not expected to make pressure on the eastern front until they have tried one more to separate the Russian northern armies and capture Brest-Litovsk.

New from Turkish sources that the landing of the German Gallipoli peninsula near Suvla bay has been engaged heavily by the British. It is reported today from General Sir Ian Hamilton, the British commander, that the British have intervened among others including a Turkish trench. Sir Ian also reported the repulse of Sir Alan's forces.

Little change is reported in the diplomatic situation in the near east. For instance, the British government has asked for four days in which to study the situation in the near east. It is probable that the result will be the fall of the allies.

Berlin Issues Official Report on Fall of Kovno (By Associated Press.) BERLIN, Aug. 18.—(By Wireless to Skyville.)—The following announcement was made here officially today: The fortress of Kovno, together with all the forts and an amount of war material which has not been determined, has been in German hands since last night.

More than 400 cannon were taken. The fortress was captured by storm in the face of the most tenacious resistance by the Russians.

Military experts have agreed that the loss of the fortress of Kovno would be a serious blow to the Russian position. The fall of Kovno is an article published this morning says: "The enemy succeeded in reducing Kovno and is thereby able to cross the river into the Lithuanian territory. With the junction of the two wings of the Russian army at Minsk, the position of the Russian right flank will be very difficult."

The official German statement of yesterday announced the capture of the fortress of Kovno. The statement said that the Russian army was defeated by the German army. The statement also said that the Russian army was defeated by the German army.

Atlanta People Seeing and Sampling—What Conductor
Sorrells Says

No product of nature has ever attracted more attention than Vitalitas and hundreds of Atlanta people are daily seeing and sampling the remarkable liquid. Interesting statements are to be heard daily from people who have used Vitalitas and make report of the results thereof.

Conductor R. B. Sorrells, of the Southern railway, for instance, had this to say:

"I have been suffering from stomach disorders and general nervousness for years; my face has had a breaking out every summer which I could not get rid of. Have tried Vitalitas and can say it has done me more good than anything I have ever used. My indigestion is better and my system is almost gone."

Beyond question Vitalitas is the greatest known natural tonic and corrective. It is free of alcohol, or habit forming drugs, and contains only natural minerals and forces that are essential to life and health. It is pleasant and the most delicate invalid can take it. Vitalitas will be found wonderfully effective for all the ailments of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood.

Lime Against Tuberculosis

In the May 25, 1912, issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, the following statement concerning calcium (lime) medication in the treatment of tuberculosis:

"Under the systematic, continued and persistent regime of calcium administration, Van Eschen has seen a number of his patients improve. The sputum clears up of tubercle bacilli, which finally disappear, and the lungs are discharged with healed pulmonary cavities."

Ethical journals seldom speak so positively about a remedial agent, yet this testimony from Van Eschen, with that from many consumptives who have secured like results through the use of Eckman's Alternative.

Since calcium is a constituent of this remedy, its healing power may be due to the way this element is so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated.

Eckman's Alternative contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, and is safe to try. Ask at all Jacobs' Drug Stores and at leading druggists.

LABOR CONDITIONS ATLANTA ARE IMPROVING

Revival of General Business Particularly Noticed in Machine Shops

Reports from labor circles show a decided improvement in the condition of employment in local machine shops in the past two months. Up to that time practically no business was being done. Now all but one or two local machinists are employed.

In this connection local labor officials warn out-of-town machinists not to come here, as at present there is not a surplus of work in the shops, although there is enough for the local workers.

The improvement in conditions, however, has been decided. Building lines are also well employed, and these constitute about 50 per cent of the local labor.

Although two or three local machine works have had orders, the improvement in business is not due to them, but to a revival of general business.

The above conditions are generally applicable to "contract shops" as distinguished from the railroad shops. In the latter there has been some improvement, but the Southern railway shops are now working three days a week.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY MEETS AT CLARKESVILLE

Two-Day Session at the Ninth
District Agricultural Society

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
CLARKESVILLE, Ga., Aug. 18.—The Georgia Horticultural society met here this morning for a two day session at the Ninth District Agricultural school.

Dr. T. H. McMillan, professor of horticulture of the State College of Agriculture, and Prof. M. C. Gay, principal of the Clarkesville school at this place, have arranged an unusually attractive and instructive program.

Among those who will take part in the discussions are Benjamin W. Hunt, of Atlanta; Robert C. Berkman, of Augusta, president of the society; Prof. C. Newman, director of the experiment station, Marietta College; and Dr. H. Gaertner, Atlanta; Prof. F. D. Harrison, district demonstrator, Clarkesville; Dr. P. T. Norcor, Tallahassee; H. R. Staight, Demorest; Dr. T. H. McMillan, of the school here.

PAVING OF GORDON ST. IS ORDERED TO PROCEED

Foundation Row With Car
Company Will Be Carried Into Courts

City Attorney Mayson on Wednesday advised Chief of Construction Hurst, proceeded with the work of tearing up Gordon street preparatory to laying a new pavement despite the announcement of the Georgia Railway and Power company that it will refuse to lay a concrete foundation under its tracks on the street.

Officials of the power company announced Wednesday that the company does not consider the ordinance valid, as it works an undue hardship and an unnecessary one, and that it is prepared to settle the question of concrete foundations in the courts.

Under the city attorney's direction, however, the construction department will proceed on the work without reference to the argument, and will tear up the street, and not allow the trolley company to replace the torn out foundations with any except concrete construction.

As a result of the controversy it now appears likely that if the work goes on now that the street will be torn up indefinitely, while the fight is made in the courts.

Councilman S. L. Dallas, of the Seventh ward, attempted in council to have an amendment to the ordinance which would except Gordon street, passed, but council voted the amendment down.

The controversy over the question of concrete foundations for trolley tracks is causing the construction department much concern, as several other streets, notably Ponce de Leon avenue, are affected.

The Ponce de Leon pavement is being held up while Alderman Dunlap consults with citizens on the street to see if they wish him to attempt in council to secure the same exception in the instance of Ponce de Leon that council refused Mr. Dallas for the Gordon street job.

Among those who will take part in the discussions are Benjamin W. Hunt, of Atlanta; Robert C. Berkman, of Augusta, president of the society; Prof. C. Newman, director of the experiment station, Marietta College; and Dr. H. Gaertner, Atlanta; Prof. F. D. Harrison, district demonstrator, Clarkesville; Dr. P. T. Norcor, Tallahassee; H. R. MAN WHO TOOK GIRL FROM SCHOOL IS HELD

J. W. Johnston Bound Over to Superior Court Under $250 Bond

Charged with aiding Minnie Griner, sixteen years old, to escape from the Georgia training school for girls on the Baker's Ferry road, J. W. Johnston, thirty-five years old, 54 West Harris street, was bound over to the superior court by Judge Rosser, of the municipal court, Wednesday under $250 bond.

Miss Embree, superintendent of the school, brought the charges against Johnston. She charged that he got a lawyer friend, who represented himself to be Hugh Dorsey, to instruct her by phone to let the girl out on probation in care of Johnston. This she did Sunday afternoon. Monday she discovered that Hugh Dorsey had not telephoned her—and she had the county police arrest Johnston. They also got the girl and returned her to the home.

Solicitor Dorsey was a witness at the hearing. He said he had talked with Johnston about the girl, but said he had never telephoned for her to be let out.

Johnston's defense was that he didn't use the phone at all; that he didn't sign a receipt for the girl, and that he was a relative of hers.

Johnston is a mechanic. There is also an accusation against him in the city court, charging him with driving an automobile while intoxicated.

UNDERWRITERS REGRET DEATH OF L. R. WARREN

Resolutions mourning the death of Major L. R. Warren, a prominent insurance man of Richmond, Va., died August 14, were adopted by the members of the Southeastern Underwriters' association in session in Atlanta August 15.

The resolutions, drawn up by Thomas Peters, Edward S. Gay and W. F. P. Fitts, set forth the high character of Major Warren and his invaluable aid to the association, which he helped found, and extend to his bereaved family the assurances of heartfelt sympathy in their common loss.

MORE COLORED NURSES NEEDED IN ATLANTA

In an effort to provide Atlanta with more and better prepared colored nurses, a rally of the congregations of all the African Methodist churches in Atlanta is called for Sunday, August 22, at Bethel church, Auburn avenue and Butler street. Morris Brown university has agreed to lend all possible aid to the undertaking and a nurses' training department will be organized.

Dr. H. R. Butler, is planned for the university. It is hoped, by those backing the movement, to raise $5,000 for this department.

Credulous women with a fondness for "bargains" are being duped in cities throughout the country by the appearance of Scotch and Irish peddlers who offer to sell goods from a $345,000 stock of salvaged merchandise from the wrecked "Steamship Sultana," according to a bulletin just issued to the vigilance committee of the Atlanta Ad Men's club by the national vigilance committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

"Anonymous hand bills, usually circulated a few days before the appearance of the peddlers," says the bulletin, "announce that high-grade linens, hosiery, woolsens and silks will be sold at absurdly low prices through agents of Messrs. G. J. Campbell & Co., New York City. The largest commission salesmen in the world, and consignees of the 'Sultana' and the 'Titanic'."

The national vigilance committee reports that investigation of American shipping records since 1902 reveal no record of the wreck of a steamship "Sultana," and that "G. J. Campbell & Co." cannot be found in New York and are not known there.

GEORGIA FARMS ARE IN EXCELLENT CONDITION

S. B. Turman Brings Optimistic Report After Trip to the Country

Good conditions on central Georgia farms are reported by S. B. Turman, who has just returned from a business trip to Jones and Spalding counties. If we have any sort of shipping facilities at all, Mr. Turman expects to see 10-cent cotton by fall.

"From what I saw and from what I learned from talking to farmers from various points," Mr. Turman said, "the cotton crop around central Georgia will show a reduction of 25 per cent and in some cases more."

The stalk looks fine enough, but where there ought to be twelve or fifteen bolls there are only three or four, lack of fertilizers and drought combined have caused this.

"Cotton is opening freely around Macon and is also opening between Atlanta and Macon. Farmers will not sell under 8 cents a pound, for the merchants, bankers and growers are co-operating."

"Cotton has been raised cheaply. The merchants have been unable to extend much credit and much of the cultivation has been done without hired labor. There has also been a great increase in diversified farming."

"I found, too, that Georgia farms are, at the present time, in a better condition than Western concerns which formerly loaned on farms out there are beginning to be afraid of the high land values, and at Macon several loan agencies have been opened to handle farm loans."

"Georgia farms are much cheaper than those out west, and there are other conditions more favorable to farming."

I. W. W. Busy at Vera Cruz Is Report in Washington

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—State department dispatches from Vera Cruz say: "Highly inflammatory placards have been circulated throughout the town by the I. W. W. The placards call for a mass meeting on August 15, directed against the intervention of Mexico by the U. S. A. Authorities profess ignorance of the movement. Carranza forbade the mass meeting but the posters remain on the walls."

No active anti-foreign demonstration has been reported but officials are uneasy over the situation. The battleships New Hampshire and Louisiana with Rear Admiral McLean, are due in Vera Cruz tomorrow.

Reports indicate that the Pan-American appeal has been accepted by the factionally all the factional leaders except Zapata.

End-of-the-Season Sale of

Porch Furniture

This sale is slated for a few days to clear our stock of summer goods and make way for the new things we're getting in every day. All the broken lines, odds' and ends of Porch Furniture left from the season's selling, will be in this sale except French Willow. This is a year-round line, as good in winter for sun parlors, living rooms and libraries as for the porch in summer.

There are various makes and materials represented in this sale--one or two pieces of a kind, perhaps--but every piece is of such excellent quality that it will pay you to buy now for next summer.

We list the sale pieces. You will see from their former prices they are reduced very nearly one-half--in some instances, indeed, more than a half.

"Sinclair" Double-Caned Furniture

If you want strength and wearing qualities in your Porch Furniture, you can't beat the "Sinclair" line. It is made for cool and good service. The frames are of sound, air-dried stock, carefully selected, maple or oak. The double hand-woven caning gives added strength, as well as comfort and good looks. The maple frames are finished in the natural shade with three coats of waterproof coach varnish. The oak frames have a green finish.

You can leave these furnishings on the porch all winter without hurting them a bit. The chairs won't warp, the settees won't crack nor split, the swing chains won't rust.

This line is practically complete and reduced about one-fourth. So it will be money in your pocket to buy now for next season.

LIBERTY BELL CHARGED HIGH RAILROAD RATE

Committee Says It Is Exorbitant and Plans Change of Route

(By Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—Declaring that railroads in the southwestern states are demanding excessive rates for the transportation of the Liberty Bell for part of its homeward journey, members of the committee of council having the trip in charge will meet next Monday prepared to revise the itinerary which had been tentatively agreed upon.

Although the return journey is 1,400 miles shorter than the northern route taken on the outward trip, the transportation charges are much higher and it is declared that several of the proposed side trips may be abandoned. The committee, that a rate of $8 a mile is demanded for the thirty-five miles shorter than the northern route, and Phoenix, while the rate for the 148 miles between Phoenix and Salt Lake City is only $233, a fraction over $2.50 a mile.

Other trips for which it is alleged an excessive rate is demanded are those between San Francisco and Niles, Cal., and from Niles, Tex., to Austin, which is charged with the inspection of the military departments of educational institutions.

Colonel Woodward is much pleased at this expression of approval of the work the academy is performing.

FOURTH WARD CITIZENS HOLD RECALL MEETING

A meeting of citizens of the Fourth ward was held Tuesday night on the call of the recall campaign committee of the ward.

ROTARIANS AT HOME FROM WESTERN TOUR

They Tell Club What They Saw and Start Movement for 1917 Meet

The regular weekly luncheon of the Atlanta Rotary club Tuesday was enlivened by the presence and talk of Albert S. Adams, Evan E. Allen, Fred Foster and H. G. Hastings, just returned from San Francisco and the Golden West, where they attended the international convention of rotary clubs.

Mr. Adams, a former president of the Atlanta club, was elected sergeant-at-arms of the international association, and was the only officer chosen to the big convention by the unanimous vote of all the delegates.

The returned Rotarians' high estimate of Atlanta, Atlantians, Georgia and Georgian was not lessened any by their visit to Frisco and the coast. They told the local club at Tuesday's luncheon that Atlanta has more pretty women than San Francisco or Los Angeles and that Georgia watermelon and Georgia peaches are more luscious in taste and delightful to look upon than the finest of California fruits.

A movement was launched at the luncheon to have the 1917 convention to Atlanta.

It is a positive fact that the moment resinol ointment touches any itching skin, the itching usually stops and healing begins. With the aid of resinol soap, it quickly clears away all trace of eczema, ringworm, pimples, blackheads or similar tormenting, unsightly eruptions, leaving the skin clear and healthy.

And the best of it is you need never hesitate to use resinol soap and resinol ointment. There is nothing in them to injure the tenderest surface. Resinol is a doctor's prescription which for twenty years has been used by careful physicians for all kinds of skin affections. They prescribe resinol freely, confident that its soothing, healing action is brought about by medication so bland and gentle as to be suited to the most delicate or irritated skin—even of a tiny baby. Every druggist sells resinol soap and resinol ointment. Samples free. Dept. 28-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.—(Adv't.)

RID YOUR SYSTEM OF URIC ACID

Smart's Buchu and Juniper Compound Drains It.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter uric acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; but at times the kidneys become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid, causing stiffness, soreness, pain, rheumatism, aching back, puffiness and swollen muscles, spots before the eyes, dropsy, diabetes, indigestion, scalding and dribbling of the urine. Smart's Buchu and Juniper compound has been used for years to clean out impurities and uric acid from the kidneys and bladder, thus ending all kidney and bladder weakness and doing away with all irritating bladder or kidney symptoms, curing dropsy and diabetes. Smart's Buchu and Juniper is a fine kidney regulator and has helped thousands of sufferers from weak kidneys by making the kidneys strong and well. Responsible druggists can supply you.—(Adv.)

To Put On Flesh And Increase Weight

GOOD ADVICE FOR THIN PEOPLE.

It is certainly good for anything to be able to put on flesh and gain weight. That is what many thin men and women. Such a result is usually not impossible despite past failures. Most thin people are victims of indigestion, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of assimilation are normal. Instead of getting into the blood most of the fat and fine producing elements stay in the intestine until they pass out of the body as waste.

Smart's Buchu and Juniper compound is a healthy, normal amount of fat the flesh making elements must be so prepared in the digestive process that the blood will accept and assimilate them. Smart's Buchu and Juniper is a preparation called Sarsol, which works by digesting and assimilating the food, thus increasing the power of weight increase or making the blood more ready to take up the fatty elements of the food. It is a combination of ingredients of acknowledged value. Smart's Buchu and Juniper compound is pleasant and easy to take and its action is rapid. It is recommended by all the leading physicians and druggists everywhere who are authorized to refund the full purchase price if weight increase is not obtained.

(NOTE)—Sarsol is recommended only as a purgative and while it has been found to result in cases of nervous indigestion and indigestion, it should be used with care by those using it who do not want to increase weight.—(Adv.)

In One Month

HEALED BY CUTICURA

SOAP AND OINTMENT

"Our baby boy broke out with eczema when he was three weeks old. The arms were mostly affected by the trouble which took the form of a rash. The itching and burning were so great that he didn't sleep nights at all. His arms were very red, inflamed and swollen and he was so cross that I had to hold him most of the time. He would lie awake nights and keep crying.

"This trouble continued about six weeks and a friend prescribed Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Relief was given at once and he was healed, sound and well in about eight days." (Signed) Mrs. A. M. Hannah, York, Va., Feb. 9, 1915.

BUTTERMILK BACTERIA NATURAL, SAYS CHEMIST

First Instance in Atlanta, and Dairyman Not Responsible, He Says

Investigation by city authorities of the poisoning of a score of people Monday afternoon from drinking buttermilk has developed a case unique in the history of health and sanitation in Atlanta, according to Dr. Claude Smith, city chemist and bacteriologist.

This is the first instance in buttermilk of the formation of buttermilk bacteria. Rare instances of this kind have been reported from other communities, generally about once a year, said Dr. Smith Wednesday, but never before had one occurred in Atlanta.

Dr. Smith went to the Forrest Park dairy, 218 1-2 Peachtree street, where the victims said they got the buttermilk they drank, and made a full investigation Tuesday.

"We closed the dairy temporarily," he said. "And poured out all the milk in the place. This was done with the full cooperation of the proprietor, who is very sorry the affair occurred and is doing everything in his power to help us. The Forrest Park dairy is one of the better class of dairies, one of the best in Atlanta. Although there is no city ordinance so providing, it is fully fitted to stand up for selling the milk, and is modern in every respect. Since Tuesday we have allowed the dairy to distribute milk which has not been sold since it was sterilized and bottled. The sweet milk we found to be absolutely pure, and the bacteria in the buttermilk a natural, though injurious product, was not the fault of the dairyman, but the bacteria formed."

"Buttermilk is always formed of bacteria. Millions go to make the buttermilk, but these millions are generally harmless and, indeed, beneficial. At rare intervals bacteria will develop which are harmful. Such cases have been known in other cities. I do not know of any that ever happened before in Atlanta."

Dr. Smith said that conditions in this summer have been the best in the city's history. The amount of bacteria in sweet milk is a lower percentage than last year, he said, and Monday's affair was the first reported from buttermilk.

Of the several people taken to Grady hospital suffering from acute indigestion believed to have been caused by the buttermilk, all had fully recovered Wednesday and were back at work.

THEATERS

With each of the four acts teeming with action and unusually powerful climaxes, "A Yankee From the West," a Mutual Masterpicture in four acts, promises a greater sensation than the publication of "Ole Rex's" celebrated novel, from which it was adapted.

This stirring, heart-thumping picture, shown one day only, Thursday, at the Vaudeville, not only presents a novel theme, but throughout entertains the most charming stories of the heart ever screened. Much has been told and written of man's reformation being wrought by a woman's love and words of encouragement, but it is doubtful if such was ever accomplished in such a delightfully charming manner as is revealed in "A Yankee From the West."

Signe Aron, one of the most popular stars and who held the important role in the "Fox Woman," is featured in "A Yankee From the West."

In presenting Ann Murdock in "A Royal Family" on the Metro program, mention is made of the fact that it is not a costume play, notwithstanding the title is one which might suggest it. The Columbia Pictures corporation has produced this play for Metro. The story reveals the little kingdom of the Kings and Kurland as neighbors inside of the zone of the world war now raging. The dramatic situation results from the attempt of men behind the throne to involve these two peace-loving neighbors in conflict. Miss Murdock has realized the expectations of the Metro company in this, her first appearance on the screen. This delightful picture will be seen at the Strand theater Wednesday and Thursday.

This Delay's Not Ours.

A recent newspaper story represented others as saying we've delayed the Ponce de Leon avenue and Pryor street pavements.

You may be interested in one of those thoroughfares. Because we value your good opinion we want to set the record straight.

We haven't delayed either of those paving jobs one minute.

When we laid our tracks on Ponce de Leon avenue beyond the springs, several years ago, we adhered to the grade given us by the city. Recently we've been ordered to lower our tracks—at a cost of several thousand dollars to nobody's gain. But we can't even begin our work until others, who are paid for it, have taken up the old pavement. That's just been started. We're quite ready to do our share with dispatch when that's finished.

On Pryor street we rebuilt our outbound track months ago. With that we finished. The business of putting down the new pavement was not ours. We had nothing to do with the fact that it was not done until recently.

On the inbound Pryor street track we had but to rebuild a short block. That took less than a week. All the rest (2,600 feet) has been ready for the new pavement from the start.

We take real pride in doing our share of such work carefully and quickly and well.

TODAY'S EVENING
STORYON PINK STREET
(Copyright, 1915, by W. W. Weaver.)

There was a flurry of excitement on Pink street that morning. And no wonder. Its dwellers were getting a new neighbor.

For a long time—in fact, since old Mrs. Rustee's death—the brown house between Mrs. Lakin's and Mrs. Marlow's had been empty. But now, quite unexpectedly, somebody was moving in. A little questioning discovered that the newcomer's name was Rainor; that there were two of them—and a dog; that he was retired from business and seeking the quiet of a small town; that he was elderly and she much younger, and that they had bought the house outright and had some nice furniture.

So far, excellent. But before even a call had been made Miss Ash began to find fault with the Rainors. Miss Ash had nothing in the world to do but to sit on her veranda and concern herself with the affairs of her neighbors. She told Mrs. Marlow that she did not like the way Mrs. Rainor spoke to forlorn female agents; she was too curt and too prone to door slamming. Pink street, by the way, prides itself upon its courtesy to humanity in general. Then, too, Miss Ash thought that Mrs. Rainor had a flippant tilt to her shirt. As for the way she dressed—well, no married woman of any age at all, especially if she has an ailing elderly husband, has any right to wear scarlet on her hat and furs herself up in pink morning dresses.

"I've my opinion of her," summed up Miss Ash. "It may or it may not be yours, but there it is."

Mrs. Marlow and Mrs. Lakin went to call and came back fairly overcome by what they had learned. Mrs. Rainor was going to have the whole inside of the house papered and painted, when it was quite good enough as it was, too. More than that, she was going to have the living room papered in cardinal! Whoever heard of such a thing? Certainly not Pink street. "She must be queer," murmured Mrs. Marlow, aghast.

"She is queer," replied stout, decided Mrs. Lakin. "Cardinal paper? Well!"

However, Mrs. Rainor merely went her way. The paper and paint were applied, and two or three ladies called to see their first calls carefully so as to get the effect. They came away shocked. "Red paper! And a rug to match! It gave me the horrors," said Mrs. Frost. "Maybe that's style, Mrs. Bench, but none of it for me, thank you. I like things quiet. Why, Mrs. Bench, I've lived in my house twenty years and never had an inch of new paper put on."

"I'm wondering," breathed quiet Mrs. Bench. "What that odd creature will do next."

Mrs. Bench had not long to wait. One morning Mrs. Marlow looked out of a window and saw painters at work upon the Rainor house. They were putting on yellow paint! Mrs. Marlow could not believe it till she had aided her perception with that of Miss Ash and Mrs. Lakin.

"Yellow paint!" muttered Miss Ash. "And right opposite my house, too, where I've got to see it every time I go out of my door."

"What do you think of us? We're her next-door!" wailed Mrs. Marlow.

"I have lived on Pink street forty years," wheezed Mrs. Lakin, "and never saw anything like this before. We've never had anything but gray or white, with maybe a little brown paint inside or out. Dear, dear, what are we coming to?"

"How do you like our new color?" gaily demanded Mrs. Rainor, meeting Miss Ash at the grocery that afternoon.

"You see, Miss Ash," went on Mrs. Rainor, laughing, "poor old Pink street is a misnomer."

"It was named after Colonel Albert Pink, one of our first settlers," interrupted Miss Ash, severely.

"Indeed?" returned Mrs. Rainor, mischievously. "What is going to say is that being called Pink street without any visible reason for it, I resolved I'd brighten it up a little. I couldn't have the house painted pink, but I'll tell you, I'm going to have pink geranium baskets hanging on the veranda! What do you think of that?"

"I think you're crazy," said Miss Ash, in a rage.

However, the house shone presently in all its yellow and white glory, and the baskets crowded with pink geraniums swung airily between the pillars of the veranda. Also pink filled porch boxes appeared, and pink and white flowers were set in dainty borders up and down the front walk and about the house. Never before had Pink street become so decorous as to display posies in its front yards; hitherto it had contented itself with these carefully to its back yards.

Green porch screens, a Mexican hammock and some green wicker chairs and tables were added to the outdoor appearance of the Rainor house. And when of a morning Mrs. Rainor, in a lemon colored silk cap, or of an afternoon in white or blue, with some scarlet crochets in her hands, sat there listening while her husband read aloud, the color scheme was complete. The day that Mr. Rainor drove a long hook into the side pillar of the veranda and hung therefrom a glittering brass cage, in which dwelt a red and green parrot, Miss Ash nearly had a fit. She raged up and down Pink street from house to house.

"It's abominable! It's disgraceful! I'm mortified to death!" Miss Ash could have wept, only it was not her way to weep when she was angry.

Hitherto Pink street had been shunned by all save those who found its absolutely necessary to traverse its length. Mrs. Lakin had often complained that French street got all the travel, and one might as well live in the country for all there was to see. But now, strange to say, on Monday afternoon automobiles whizzed by the veiled ladies leaning out to stare at the Rainor place. Couples strolled by. As Grandma Knowles said, "Pink street is perking up."

The cap sheaf of all was that day when Mrs. McAllister, rich and powerful and famed as a traveler and a sojourner in cities, accented Miss Ash and Miss Lakin from her limousine as they were coming out from a bargain sale at Munford's.

"I want to congratulate you upon your good fortune in having Mrs. Rainor for a neighbor," she said. "I met her club in the city and liked her extremely. She's very bright and up to date. Will you tell her that I am coming to call upon her at the earliest possible moment?"

Miss Ash gulped. "Yes, I'll tell her," she said. "But to be honest, Mrs. McAllister, we—I don't approve of her."

"You don't approve of her? Why not, pray?" Mrs. McAllister stared frankly. Yet in her tone was a lurking amusement and yellow paint. Is not that it? The

with those same pink geraniums and that yellow paint?"

So authoritative a word could not be gainsaid. Several heads did a great deal of thinking that night. And the next day Mrs. Lakin began to act. She hired painters. It was only white paint that she put on her house. Mrs. Marlow followed her example with French gray.

Mrs. Bench made a third with light olive. Pink street caught the spirit, and up and down its extent newly painted houses blossomed as fast as peonies. Miss Ash was the last, but not the least, for she even had some carpenter work done.

Nor did improvements stop there. It seemed that for the most of the summer people vied with each other to see who could get the most done in the shortest time. There always had been money enough, but nobody had ever thought of using it for mere beauty's sake.

Mrs. McAllister went to Nova Scotia on a summer tour and did not return until September. Then one day her limousine was seen stopping at the famous Pink street doors. When she arrived at Miss Ash's Miss Ash met her, wearing a blue silk dress. Miss Ash looked twenty years younger and almost handsome.

"I wouldn't have known Pink street," said Mrs. McAllister. "It's not the same at all. It's lovely. Why, it's the prettiest street in town! Everybody says so. And you know they say that property has increased 40 per cent in value! The Rainors paid $4,000 for their place, and they were offered $7,000 the other day."

Miss Ash gave a cry. "They're not going away?" she protested. "Oh, we couldn't drive them home. They're the nearest neighbors!"

She paused, flushing. For Mrs. McAllister was laughing wickedly.

PROPERTY DAMAGE AT GALVESTON REPORTED GREATER THAN IN 1900

ment of himself. A relief committee which met in Houston yesterday decided to send a boat of supplies to Galveston.

At Kemah, on the coast, only one house has been left standing, according to Frank Anelle, of Seabrook, who escaped from the storm and made his way to Houston. Practically all the houses at Seabrook are reported destroyed.

The Southeastern Telegraph and Telephone company's loss at Houston is estimated at $100,000. Practically every establishment in Houston, reports Anelle.

The Houston Texas league baseball club has been damaged beyond repair and all baseball games will be transferred from there, according to Post.

Twelve Soldiers Killed; Eight Others Perish at Texas City

(By Associated Press.)

WACO, Tex., Aug. 18.—A copy of the edition of the Houston Chronicle of Tuesday says:

"Twelve soldiers were killed at Texas City during last night's storm when the Thompson building, a new three-story structure, collapsed. Eight were killed by falling brick, while four drowned. About thirty or forty civilians, most of them women and children, also lost their lives.

Those killed were enlisted men and commissioned officers lost their lives. Military rule has been established at Texas City and the soldiers are fishing out of the water as fast as they can be located."

The first rumor to reach Houston was that between 200 and 250 soldiers were killed, but this report was denied by Major J. T. Moran, who reached Houston late Tuesday after making a trip to Texas City in an automobile.

Eight men are reported dead near Morgan's Point. They were drowned while fishing. Reports reached there from an authentic source that the bodies of a woman, a baby and a sailor had been seen near Sylvan. They were identified and apparently had floated from some place on the bay.

Galveston Partly Wrecked; Conditions Worse Than 1900

(By Associated Press.)

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 18.—(Via Temple and telephone to Dallas.)—The Houston Chronicle prints the following interview with J. R. Montgomery, Houston correspondent of the Galveston News, who got as far as Virginia Point, the north end of the causeway, Tuesday, and viewed the wrecked city of Galveston.

"I am confident the number of dead in Galveston is large. I could not see the elevator on the port side of the city and my opinion is that the number of buildings destroyed will run into thousands. I believe the property loss will be greater than that of 1900."

Montgomery made his way to the draw bridge of the Galveston causeway, and seeing to the fact that this structure was swept away, he was forced to return to Houston. The man made the trip in an automobile.

"We encountered indescribable conditions," he said. "The road bridges at Cause Creek and Dickinson were washed out and we ran our automobile over the railroad bridges and across the ties. We saw thousands of bales of cotton on the prairie all the way from Virginia Point to the town of La Marque, far inland. These were washed into Galveston docks by the great tidal wave."

The water must have been several feet over the causeway and serious damage must have been done to it by the washing out of large quantities of fill in the center."

The railroad drawbridge has been washed away at Seabrook, about twenty miles from Houston. Three persons are reported to have lost their lives at that point.

$1,000,000 Damage Is Estimated in Houston

(By Associated Press.)

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 18.—A copy of the Houston Chronicle, issued at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon received here early today, estimates the storm damage in that city at about $1,000,000. No mention is made of loss of life in Houston, but it is stated that the storm damage in that city at about $1,000,000. No mention is made of loss of life in Houston, but it is stated that the storm damage in that city at about $1,000,000.

This is the first authentic report of deaths on the Texas coast due to the tropical storm to reach the outside world.

The paper, which is the third edition, gives the wind velocity at 2 o'clock at 25 miles per hour and at 3 o'clock at 50 miles per hour and diminishing. The forecast by the local weather bureau for the ensuing twenty-four hours is "cloudy."

The Chronicle publishes no news from Galveston, stating 24 miles of communication with that point had been interrupted since early Monday evening.

Damage to Cotton and Corn Crops Is Enormous

(By Associated Press.)

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 18.—Definite news from Galveston, Houston and Beaumont, three isolated south Texas cities, still was lacking early today but the high winds which have been blowing over that part of Texas between the Gulf and Dallas and which have produced thousands of dollars damage to cotton and corn crops, and to small buildings, apparently were dying down. Heavy rains still were falling, but in the vicinity of Waco and Dallas, the wind had subsided to a breeze.

JUDGE AND PROSECUTOR of Walter Ortolph, the alleged German spy held by federal authorities in Tallahassee, Fla. Judge Guyte P. McCord, U. S. Commissioner, on the left, and John L. Neely, U. S. district attorney for northern Florida. The hearing will be held before Judge McCord on Thursday. Below, Ortolph, the alleged spy.

It is generally believed all danger now has passed. The work of rehabilitation will begin immediately.

Telephone and telegraph offices started early today that while they had not been in direct communication with their forces working to re-establish wire communication with Houston, Galveston and Beaumont, their plans were to have at least a few wires working into these cities by noon.

Latest advices from Houston, brought to Dallas and Temple by railroad trains, were somewhat contradictory. One reported the property damage there extended only to broken plate glass windows and there had been no reports of loss of life; while others stated the property loss was enormous, probably $5,000,000 and several lives had been lost.

Not a word had been heard from Beaumont since Monday night. Brief wireless messages from Galveston indicated the storm was subsiding there and reported great damage to shipping and structures on the bay front. There was no confirmation of loss of life.

A wireless message received last yesterday by Fort San Houston, at San Antonio, told of the army transport McCallan being left high and dry half a mile inland. The tug Waverly of the Gulf Steamship company, which had been towing that transport, was reported to have been left high and dry, and the transport itself was reported to be in a battered condition. It was believed the aggregate damage to craft would be heavy.

With the sweeping of the storm inland, the coastal plains country, about Port Lavaca, a hundred miles west of Galveston. In this section, a district of fruit and truck farming much damage was reported. Pears were held for the lives of people in the district as the character of the country is such as to afford little safety to the trees.

TRACTION ENGINE GETS MADDOX IN TROUBLE

James W. Maddox, contractor and alderman from the Fifth ward, must face the recorder Wednesday afternoon on a new charge.

Being told the dirt spilling ordinance modified, Mr. Maddox was frequently arraigned for a violation of that law, but now the charge against him operating a traction engine through the streets without a permit from the chief of construction.

Many residents of Ponce de Leon avenue have complained to the construction department that the asphalt pavement on the street between Boulevard and the bridge has been greatly damaged by a traction engine, which left two trails, both nearly an inch deep, behind it.

An investigation was made and a case docketed against the contractor by Karl Brittain, assistant chief of construction.

This is the first case which has been made against the alderman under the regime of Chief Mayo.

When he testified at the trial of former Chief L. L. Beavers, Mr. Maddox was asked if Beavers had ordered the several cases against him.

He replied that Beavers had ordered some of them, the construction department others, and that sometimes the police didn't wait for orders.

Mrs. Mary McNair Dead

Mrs. Mary Turner McNair, thirty-two years old, of Hapeville, Ga., died at a private sanitarium Tuesday afternoon. Surviving her are her parents, and four sisters. The funeral will be held at Philadelphia church Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and the interment will be in the church yard.

RUMORS OF BIG WAR LOAN BOOSTS FOREIGN EXCHANGE

U. S. May Not Approve Bankers' Plan to Furnish the Allies $500,000,000

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Reports that negotiations were underway for the flotation of a big foreign loan here imparted strength to the foreign exchange market today, notwithstanding the opinion in well informed circles that a remedy for the situation was no nearer than several days ago.

Two questions loomed large in the discussion of American bankers attempting to underwrite a loan to Great Britain or her allies of from $200,000,000 to $500,000,000. These questions were:

Would the Washington administration regard the underwriting of such a loan as against the spirit of neutrality?

Could a loan of these huge proportions be placed in this country, if underwritten on terms that Great Britain could afford to grant?

International bankers recalled the attitude taken by Washington early in the war when the subject of a large French loan was broached. They remembered that J. P. Morgan then went to Washington and when he returned the loan was not placed.

Since then several loans to France and Great Britain have been placed, but for only nominal sums and they were distinctly of a credit character. Since then European buyers have flooded American manufacturers with orders, so that bills coming due ran into the hundreds of millions.

Matters have reached a stage, in the belief of financiers, where there must be little further delay in providing the way to pay these bills. Failure to do so, it is believed may result in heavy curtailment of American shipments abroad.

Reports current in Wall street today, cabled from London over night, that Great Britain and her allies were said to be contemplating shipments of $25,000,000 gold to the United States were received with skepticism. Not only would such shipments be without parallel, but even if made, they would have to extend over a long period, and the debt then probably would be as large as ever.

These and other considerations, it was learned, were acting as a brake on negotiations while the plans to relieve the situation seemed to mark time, the market showed a tendency to strengthen and took on a quieter tone and appearance. Feeling opened at a range of from 4.65 to 4.68 1/2. France showed the decided advance of 1 cent from yesterday's low record, being quoted at the opening at 5.98, while lire were correspondingly stronger at 6.49.

Later, bills on London and Paris showed greater strength, demand being quoted at 4.67 1/2 and Paris checks at 5.97 1/2.

ITALY'S MAKE FURTHER PROGRESS THROUGH THE ALPS

ROME, Aug. 17.—(Via Paris, Aug. 18.)—Further Italian advances through the passes of the Alps and a brilliant bayonet charge which captured a strong line of Austrian entrenchments in the Dolomite region are described in the official report issued tonight at army headquarters. The statement says:

"On the night of August 16 from Capanna, Milano and divided into squads joined by ropes crossed the Camosello Pass (5,500 feet high) and the Vedrette di Dampio, climbed the snow-capped summit of Tofel Spitz (10,500 feet) and surprised groups of the enemy. It then proceeded to Hunter Massachus spitz (10,400 feet) occupied by a detachment of the enemy which it attacked and dispersed and solidly occupied the summit."

"In Upper Reins further progress by our infantry was reported. We occupied Sattlerberg west of Lunge Alps."

"In the Monte Nero section we captured several of the enemy's trenches in the neighborhood of the Visio Peak. Later a counter attack by the enemy on our Visio positions was vigorously repulsed."

"In the Tolmino zone our brilliant offensive developed against the hills of Santa Maria and Santa Lucia commanding positions situated to the right of the Isosno. After the customary preparatory shelling by artillery our infantry dashed forward with the bayonet and stormed a line of strong entrenchments extending along the western slopes of these heights. The enemy suffered very heavy losses. We captured several machine guns, four mortars, and a great quantity of ammunition."

Four Steamers, Three of Them Neutral, Are Sunk

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The British steamer Bonny, of 2,752 tons gross, and the Spanish steamer Isidoro, 2,945 tons gross, have been sunk. Twenty-one of the crew of the Bonny and eight of the crew of the Isidoro were picked up. The Norwegian steamers Romulus and Mineral have been sunk. The crews were saved. The traveler George also was sunk. Her crew was saved.

SOMEHOW Sammy Jay has a way of happening along when ever anything happens worth seeing. Not even the Merry Little Breeches of Old Mother Wind, who all the day long dance this way and that through the Green Forest, and over the Green Meadows and in the old Orchard and thence to the Old Pasture and above the Smiling Pool, see more funny or exciting things than does Sammy Jay. Whenever or wherever anything happens Sammy is almost sure to be near enough to see.

One reason, of course, that he is forever looking for something to happen. He spies on his neighbors. He is always tremendously interested in their affairs. It happened on the morning when Timmy the Flying Squirrel had his great fight that Sammy lay saw Farmer Brown's Boy with Bower the Hound at his heels enter the Green Forest. Sammy followed them, taking the greatest care not to make a sound. He had a feeling that something would happen. So when Farmer Brown's Boy pushed over the old dead tree, not knowing that anybody lived in it, Sammy saw him. Sammy didn't know that anybody lived there either. He had sat on the top of that old dead tree many times without once suspecting that anybody lived in it, which shows how cunningly Timmy the Flying Squirrel had kept his secret.

After the old tree had crashed to the ground Sammy watched Bower the Hound go sniffing along its length. "He's wasting his time," he thinks he's going to find anybody there," thought Sammy. Just then, however, he saw that Bower to dig under the tree and a certain place and it was very clear that Bower thought he had discovered something. He heard him bark excitedly. Farmer Brown's Boy rolled the tree over and right away Sammy's sharp eyes spied a little round hole. It was just like a lot of other little round holes in the old tree, but Bower sniffed and whined and barked at this one in a way that plainly said that there was some one inside.

"That's queer," thought Sammy.

Should Your Life be a Work?

By Edna K. Wooley

YOU know Marie? She was married a little more than a year ago, and she has the sweetest baby," began the said sister. "Well, she wants her old position back, and I guess she's going to get it, for she was a splendid stenographer."

"But why?" asked the school-marm. Her husband earns a good enough salary, doesn't he? And who will take care of the baby?"

"Yes, John earns enough to support a fairly comfortable home," said the first speaker, "but Marie is tired of staying home, and she misses the little luxuries she used to have. She says she doesn't see why she shouldn't make money as well as John, and she can get a good nurse girl to take care of the baby."

"I don't know what's getting into the women," said the best stenographer's mother. "In my day we were willing to make a few sacrifices, and we considered our husbands and children as more important than personal luxuries. I would no more have left one of my children all day in the care of a nurse girl!" she finished, with a note of horror in her voice.

"Come to think of it," said the school-marm, "about all the school teachers I know who have married wanted to go back to work after marriage. They married. I suppose if some of the cities didn't have strict laws keeping married women out of school positions there wouldn't be a place left for the married woman teacher who has to support herself."

"I don't see why women should be compelled to stop teaching when they marry," spoke up the suffragette. "A man teacher isn't fired when he marries."

"The man teacher is an entirely different proposition," said the only man present. "You must remember that when a man marries he undertakes to support his wife and prospective family. When a woman marries she expects to be supported and should no longer need the salary she has been accustomed to."

"It's a puzzle I haven't solved in my own mind yet—whether a woman should keep working after marriage or not," mused the head stenographer. "I've known so many women who wanted to keep working after marriage. They can't see why they shouldn't. And yet, in almost every case I can name, it's not the woman who wants to work, but the man. Somebody else's man's sense of responsibility. He doesn't like to see his wife earning money, especially if his wife earns more than he does, as sometimes happens. First thing she knows the husband is out of the house, and she's left to fend for herself, and neither is happy."

"There's just thinking of having been independent, and having what you want to wear, and going out when you please, and not being driven then harder, had shouted the new orders at them, had sought to coerce them into submission by a volley of filthy oaths."

By Mary Lee

NOW I'm not making much money, though I've never outgrown my love for meowing about in soft earth," laugher Mrs. Jones. "That is the reason I won't go when I am doing my planting and transplanting. There is something so lovely and warm about going into the soil that I like to dig into it with my bare hands."

"At this time in August I want to get my hands ready for my winter job of beautifying the boxes with seeds, which will get a good start on doors; then I will keep them in a sunny window, and early in February we will be rejoicing over the opening of our big pansy flowers and feel that spring is with us."

"I have some big ornamental pots to put the cosmos plants into when I take them from their tubs, so I want to get the year round joy flowers. But best of all are my salvias. I put some of them into the inside window boxes and others into pots."

"Then we do not have to do as others do who are not so wise. At Christmas time we do not have to earn the money for the flowers, for they are all ready. How can it be when we are all year round joy flowers. But best of all are my salvias. I put some of them into the inside window boxes and others into pots."

"If the salvia is brought in before the frost has a chance to nip any of its strength away it will bloom prodigally until after New Year's. I have had it keep on duty until early in March."

"If it is better having so many plants about the house, I think there is no one thing which does more toward making a room cheerful and attractive than plants, and they not only develop the sense of the beautiful in children, but their care makes for the love of growing things and nature."

"Do words always mean a mental force to you? I have never found a winter sun shining through the misty windows of my house, and the chairs holding out their arms to welcome the big table with the books and magazines, and the pots of salvia and the geraniums and ferns, all saying—'Come and rest and be cozy with us.'"

HOUSEHOLD HELPS

Keep the canary in a moderately small cage if you desire it to sing.

To remove moulds from walls apply with a large wide brush this solution: One pound of chloride of lime dissolved in one gallon of water.

Clean paint brushes by washing them in hot soda water and soft soap.

When a trunk or box has been moved, put under one end a piece of brown handle a little longer than the trunk or box and it will move easily.

Do not put soap directly upon fancy colored singlets. If they are soiled, soaked them in salt water for an hour, then wash them in warm suds.

Mend the clothing before laundering and thus save mending a larger hole.

When paint sticks to glass it may be removed with hot vinegar. Rub the vinegar on the glass with a brush.

To brighten oil lamps, boil the burner in buttermilk.

A piece of burip will be found invaluable for "rubbing up" the kitchen range. Wring it from water and wipe the range quickly, even if the surface is hot. The hands will not be burnt in one session of war.

A drop of household ammonia applied to a spot caused by chigger will lessen the itching and hasten the healing.

Brown bread spread with butter in which a liberal amount of paprika has been beaten makes a delicious sandwich to serve with crisp salad.

Bathe sunburn with sweet cream.

Dry dinghams quickly and in the shade. Iron dinghams on wrong side of cord to avoid a gloss.

Under heat the fat dries out and bastes the fowl or meat, rendering it juicy and at the same time adding a delicious flavor.

For fresh or salt, is best to keep in the refrigerator for several days. A bit of ham fat improves sausage.

OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pink-

Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio. "My left side pained me so for several years that I expected to have to undergo an operation, but the first bottle I took of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
relieved me of the pain. I continued its use until I became regular and free from pains. I had asked several doctors if there was anything I could do to help me and they said there was nothing they knew of. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."

Goodman-Squires
An interesting event of the past week was the wedding of Miss Lily May Squires and Mr. Luther Burson Goodman, which was solemnized Saturday afternoon at 5:30 at the First Christian church by Dr. L. O. Bricker, pastor of the church.

Mrs. Donald Fuller was matron of the Squires, who gave her maid and made a charming picture in her going away gown of white silk and contrasting with the black mesh of the bridesmaid.

The groom was attended by Mr. Wylie Truett as best man, Mr. Sidney Dunn as groomsmen and the ushers were Mr.
Donald Fuller and Mr. R. L. Holbrook.

Mrs. Fuller wore a gown of white chiffon, with a picture of contrasting shades of pink and carried enchanting corsage.

Miss Hall wore white point d'esprit over pink silk and her hat was of white leopard and she carried pink corsage.

The wedding music was played by Miss Stevens.

The bride's mother was given in black tulle with lace and Mrs. A. B.
Jones, the groom's mother, wore white voile with lace.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr.
and Mrs. Goodman left for an extended trip east and after September 1 will be at the home of the bride's parents, 4
Rosalia street.

Birthday Party
Mrs. H. G. Andrews entertained at a birthday party Tuesday afternoon at her home on Cooper street in celebration of the first birthday of little Miss Thelma Andrews.

Games and music were enjoyed.
The dining room table was decorated in pink and white. Mrs. D. B. Andrews served punch.

Those present Anna Bell, Margaret
Allen, Sarah Forrest, Cora Brooks,
Mary Fleming, Elizabeth McGee, Thelma Andrews,
Virginia Andrews, Miss Hattie Bell, Miss
Aubrey Burch, Miss Alma Rhodes,
Miss Josephine Bryant, Mrs. R. B.
Dowd, Mrs. Samuel Allen, Mrs. J. A.
Rhodes and Mrs. Gordon McGee.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs.
Clifford Newton, Mrs. W. H. Andrews and Mrs. M. Sinclair.

W. C. U. Silver Tea
The silver tea given at the home of Mrs. McMillan by the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance union was well attended.

Mrs. D. J. Garrett, of Washington,
D. C., and Miss Anna Grover Murray, of Boston, Mass., were visitors who described the good work accomplished by the international revenue officers, and the Woman's Christian Temperance union, of Bedford, Mass., who maintain the Llewellyn lodge for the benefit of women and girls engaged in business who desire to rest and recuperate.

Mrs. Margaret Helen Bryson rendered beautiful instrumental and vocal music. Mrs.
Reeves, Mrs. MacMillan and Mrs. Ingram gave readings.

Lydia E. Pinkham was received into full membership of the Atlanta Frances Willard union by the president.

Members are urged to be present at the meeting to be held in Trinity street school room Thursday afternoon at 7:30 o'clock to elect new officers.

Caused by Constipation
In Hot Weather

People of advancing years should be very careful of their health during hot months. One has only to follow the mortality record of elderly people as reported in newspaper columns to realize these are the hardest months of the year for them.

It is most important to the maintenance of health and vigor at this time to avoid constipation, with its accompanying headaches and muscular blood congestion. This can be best accomplished by the timely use of a pleasant, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, an ideal remedy that is pleasant to the taste and does not gripe. Its tonic properties build up and strengthen the system.

Elderly people should avoid strong physics, cathartics, purgatives, salts and pills as these afford only temporary relief and are a shock to the entire system. In every home a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should always be on hand. It is inexpensive and can be obtained in any drug store for only fifty cents. For a free trial bottle write Dr. Caldwell, 463 Washington, St. Monticello, Ill.

Washington Seminary

Its College-Preparatory Course
A greater number of girls each year are fitting themselves ultimately to enter some of the Class A colleges. For years Washington Seminary has maintained a special college-preparatory course.

On completion of this course, the students are accepted without entrance examinations at the leading colleges, such as Vassar, Wellesley, Agnes Scott, Smith, Holyoke, Randolph-Macon, Goucher, etc., to all of which institutions a number of our students have gone.
